EASTERN NEWS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

End of the Georgia Insurrection Case.

ATLANTA, Sept. 4.—The grand jury of Washington county, before whom the alleged insurrectionists have been on trial, discharged the remaining prisoners and complimented the judge and counsel for the able and impartial performance of duty. Judge Johnson then addressed the grand jury and citizens, advising the latter to acquiesce in the decision of the jury and refrain from violence, recommending the people for the conservative and law abiding course pursued. All the prisoners not before discharged, and the court adjourned.

Funeral of Pietro Viane.

NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—The funeral services over the remains of Pietro Viane, who suicided Tuesday, was held yesterday at City Island. Among those present were the Italian consul-general, of New York, the Greek consul, the Italian vice consul, Senor Theodore Peresond, a brother of the late Mayor Havemeyer, Ferdinando A. Marra, the sculptor, G. Torrini, the sculptor, and Signor Terpolitor, the basso singer. There was much delay in the remains of the remains and scene, making two photographs of the remains and scene, to be sent to the parents of the deceased, and the address by the clergyman. Count De Luca spoke in Italian a eulogy on Viane's life, alluded to his studies and works, and spoke of the cloud over his life. He said he had been well acquainted with his family, and there was no truth in the statement that Viane fought with a nobleman and killed him, stabbing him. Viane had become involved in some trouble at Rome and attempted suicide. The pocket spoken of contained a picture of his mother painted by himself. Count De Luca has taken charge of his property which is estimated at from $10,000 to $20,000.

The Code of Honor.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 4.—Major John N. Edwards, one of the editors of the St. Louis Times, and Col. Emery S. Forbes, editor of the Evening Journal, left here last night for Winnebago county, Ill., to fight a duel. The affair has been kept very private, no one outside the parties directly interested knowing anything of it until this afternoon, when it got on the street and became the subject of much comment. Dispatches announcing the result have been momentarily expected since 12 o'clock, but at this writing (6 o'clock) nothing has been received. Major Edwards, a dispatch to the Times from members of the Edwards party, says the duel took place at 6 P. M., at a point five miles north of Rockford, Winnebago county. One shot was exchanged, both firing a line shot, but too high. Major Edwards demanded a second shot, but under the agreement it could not be had unless demanded by both, and as Col. Forbes considered he had given all the satisfaction required, he declined the demand for another shot, and the matter was settled. Both had Remington rifles. Weapons, Colt's navy revolvers, cavalry, 20 paces.

Dr. Helmbold Gets Out of the Asylum.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 4.—Dr. Henry T. Helmbold, the well known druggist, was discharged from the Pennsylvania insane asylum on a writ of habeas corpus, by Judge Eli Cook. The judge held there was no occasion for his detention in such an institution, and stepping down from the bench, cordially greeted him on his release. Dr. Helmbold proposes to bring suit for damages against the asylum.

Bank Suspension.

NORFOLK, Sept. 4.—The Merchantile Bank of this city suspended this morning. It is claimed the assets cover the liabilities.

More Political Riots in the South.

VICKSBURG, Sept. 4.—There was a difficulty at a radical meeting at Clinton, Miss., to-day, in which three white and three negroes were killed and several whites and negroes wounded. No positive information has been received, but Hons. Hon. Edmonds and Barton, arrived at Clinton to protect the town. Negroes are arming, threatening another fight.

The Extradition Point Again.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—The case of Theo. Brown, arrested in connection with the larceny of $47,000 from the treasury department, is adjourned till Tuesday, when a decision will be given on the point of defense, which is, that whereas Brown was compelled on information charging stealing, government money ought not to hold him for receiving the money.

A Movement to Create More Room for Politicians.

CHICAGO, Sept. 4.—A Washington special says a strong move is on foot, backed by a ring of Pacific coast men, to have a new department for land surveys. The merit of the movement consists in the fact that the new department will afford a number of additional places for political pets, and more easily subject the lands of the west to the control of capitalists. This programme is nothing more than the old plan of separating the interior department from the patent office. The merit of the project becomes clearly understood by a glance at the names of it, among whom are Edgy, Sargent and the patriarchs of his class.

Work of the Red Cloud Commission.

A letter from a member of the Red Cloud commission conveys the news that the commission is getting on thoroughly whitewash Delano of stock of Marshal charges. If this is true, there will be but one way they can still further serve their suffering country, and that will be to go and hang themselves.

Another Embarrassment to Canada.

The Treaty of Washington seems an ever recurring theme in the side of Canada. The tax on fish, with lobsters and salmon, was counted a Yankee trick; then the annoyance of seal locks on bonded goods across the frontier, next vexed them; and now comes the great cut of all, the Grand Trunk road has been informed by the secretary of the treasury that the company can't do the carrying trade of the lakes. It seems there is a conflict of opinion in the interpretation of the third article of the treaty, and the secretary decides in favor of the United States.

The New Attorney for the District of Columbia.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—Ex-Gov. Wells, appointed Judge Fisher's late attorney for the District of Columbia, took the oath of office to-day and appointed H. H. Wells, Jr., assistant.

CANADA.

Accident to Welland Canal.

PORT COLBORNE, Sept. 4.—The propeller Mary carried away four gates of the Allenburg dock on Welland canal, this afternoon, and the guard-lock is in a precarious condition. It will take several days to repair the break.

The "Consecrated Ground" Riot.

MONTREAL, Sept. 4.—Joseph Doutre has prepared a placard declaring the public peace is threatened. This with another affidavit of similar effect, has been submitted to a magistrate in order to procure the presence of a force of volunteers at the Orange Guard, which is postponed until next week. Further trouble is apprehended. With the affidavit results follow the second interment of the unconsecrated men are in the cemetery waiting the opening for the funeral, and have been there all night. They have blocked the road, and demand passage and business of travelers. Inhabitants are said to feel much alarmed, and have appealed to the government for police. Doutre to-day caused writs to be issued against 20 of the ringleaders of the late riot, and it is now understood these will be all arrested when the burial takes place. A battalion is ordered to concentrate here, and volunteers are exercised, as also that of prominent members of the Institute Canadienne.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

State of the English Markets.

LONDON, Sept. 4.—The Times, in its financial column, says the firmness in the money market is continued, and of business done at market rates a large proportion of the bills were discounted at a shade less than the rates. Corn steady. Deliveries of English and foreign wheat continue heavy. Provision markets mostly firm, with occasional advance in prices last week. The Hungarian wheat crop is said to be a disappointment, but owing to late harvests may be still some of the crop available for export. There is little further news regarding the crops. Mincing Lane markets are without change from the dullness of many weeks. The coal market continues depressed and prices are slightly downward.

Another Indian Outbreak.

MANKATO, Minn., Aug. 26.—Gov. Davis has appointed J. C. Wise, of this place, Warren Smith, of Graham Lake, and Charles G. Whitcomb, of St. Paul, to investigate the grasshopper ravages—their origin, incursion into the state, manner of egg deposit, best means of destruction, etc. They are to report by October 1st, when the result of their investigations may be laid before the next legislature for consideration.

PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

CALIFORNIA.

The Bank of California—Further Disclosures.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 4.—The Bulletin publishes an editorial this evening in which, after referring to the course of the paper with regard to the Bank of California and Ralston, it says: "When the Bank suspended last week we thought it our duty, to protect, as far as possible, depositors and other creditors of that institution. We published just so many facts as we believed would best serve that purpose, and no more. We then said that the failure was owing to the mismanagement of the late president, and that this management was without the knowledge of the directors. For these statements we were roundly abused. The vicious press undertook to marshal all the corrupt elements against us. We were in possession of facts which we could not state because we were most anxious that the directors should, if possible, contrive some way of extrication. We preferred to suffer the assaults of enemies rather than to give the facts at a time when they might furnish a complete vindication of our attitude toward the Bank, but might at the same time hinder and possibly defeat plans which the directors were devising for the protection of the creditors of that institution. The directors, some of whom have always been the staunchest friends of the Bulletin, and are so now, have perfected their plans and have settled upon a basis of action whereby every creditor of the Bank will be fully paid. We have full confidence both in the ability and in the good faith of these men. They will redeem all their pledges, and may ultimately make the bank stronger even than the one which suspended. It was time that the Bulletin should be relieved from secrets which it has been abused for keeping. We therefore proposed to ask the consent of the board of directors to relieve us from any further obligation to keep secret some facts within our knowledge. Having done our best to protect others, it is part of our duty to protect ourselves. We are now authorized by D. O. Mills to say that the late president did, without the knowledge of the directors, use from $3,000,000 to $4,000,000 of the bank resources, which amount remains unpaid. This was the cause of the recent failure. Probably elsewhere this would be set down as a defalcation. We are also authorized by the same authority to say that there was an over issue of stock, which over issue has now been provided for. The particular use which was made of this large sum of money, it is not our duty to mention. When these discoveries were made the connection of the late president with the institution was at once severed. Between $3,000,000 and $4,000,000 of money had gone out of the bank without knowledge of the directors."

Election Returns.

Counting is not yet complete. The fight between Clayton and Bryant is still undecided. Bryant is 267 ahead at last advices, and Clayton gaining. About 20,000 votes are counted out of 25,562.

Ellis is 427 ahead of Crowley, the latter gaining very slightly.

Badham is certainly elected, and Swan, for coroner, probably.

Nunan, (Dem.) for sheriff, is ahead.

The race is close between Bolander and Denman.

Murphy, (Ind.) for district attorney, gains on Ferrull (Dem.) and may beat him.

Burnett's (Ind.) chances for city and county attorney are brightening. Otherwise the Democrats have undoubtedly made a clean sweep.

Returns from the state are incomplete, but only legislative tickets are doubtful.

Hanged and to be Hanged.

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 3.—Felisario Alipas was executed at 3 o'clock this afternoon for the murder of W. G. Rogerson last March. He displayed a great deal of nerve, never weakening to the last. But few persons witnessed the execution.

Jose DeCarme will be hanged on the 17th inst., for the murder of a man named Johnson, at Julian, several years ago.

NEVADA.

Indian Troubles in Nevada.

CHERRY CREEK, Sept. 4.—A runner came in from Spring Valley last night, who stated that one of A. C. Cleveland's ranchmen had come to his place asking help, saying 500 Indians were congregated near Cleveland's ranch that one Indian and two white men had been killed, and that A. C. Cleveland and Dan Murphy, cattle men, were besieged and needed help. Twenty men, well armed, started from here at midnight, and will reach there about noon to-day. Others started out this morning. No Indians have been seen in Steptoe valley for the last ten days, and it is thought they are all in Spring valley. Cannot ascertain the cause of the trouble.

ARIZONA.

Murder and Threats of Lynch Law.

TUCSON, Sept. 3.—Last night, while intoxicated, Francisco Esperza shot Procopio Levas through the body. The Mexicans are greatly excited, and lynch law is feared. He waived an examination and is now in jail. His bail was fixed at $2,500.

SEVERE TEST IN PHONOGRAPHY.—There were nine applicants for the situation of official reporter of the twentieth district court, made vacant by the death of P. J. Malone. Judge Belden announced that he would appoint the applicant who proved the most competent for the position. The examination took place last Friday at San Jose, Judge Belden and a committee of attorneys sitting as a board of examiners. Six of the applicants entered into the contest, viz.: Messrs. O'Dougherty, Houghton, Hyatt, Reynolds, Foot and Whitton. The first test was made by the members reading from evidence that none of the reporters had seen, the parts taken by lawyers in a wordy conflab over a point involved in a trial of the case. Each committeeman read a part and quite rapidly. The next test was the reading of testimony by Judge Belden, at the rate of 180 to 210 words a minute. The judge then read a decision or judgment with the same rapidity. He next read from evidence more slowly, about 150 words a minute. The reporters were requested to retire to another room and leave their manuscript behind. They were called in one at a time and requested to read their notes. The first gentleman who made the attempt skipped over his notes badly, even the slower reading was unsatisfactory. All the other reporters except Whitton, declined to read. They said they could transcribe the notes correctly, but would rather be excused from trying to read them off-hand. Chas. F. Whitton was complimented by the committee, reporting that he missed but one word, and Judge Belden gave him the appointment.—S. F. Bulletin.

The Chicago Tribune has a special from Washington, which says:

A letter has been received from a prominent army officer on the Plate, in which, while agreeing heartily with every word of Professor Marsh's pamphlet, he expresses very little hope of a successful attack upon the ring. He says: "We regard the Indian ring with mingled suspicion, hatred and respect. It is composed of shrewd, intelligent and unscrupulous men. It wields an influence whose motive power is unfeeling as gold. No committee appointed under its auspices can gather and digest evidence of its malpractices with a mind unbiased or a vision unblinded. I have but little hope of the result. The department, with admirable skill and hypocrisy, has yoked religion to avarice and intrigue. Whoever as an army officer opposes so strong a system of fraud and deceit must kick against the pricks."

For my own part, if my pocket was full of stones, I have no right to throw one at a backslider upon earth. I have either done as bad or worse than he, or I certainly should if the Lord had left me a little to myself, for I am made of just the same materials. If there be any difference it is wholly of grace.—Mrs. F. Newton.

STATE TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

Afternoon Session.

SALEM, Sept. 3, 1875.

The session wears to a close, and those interested in the management of the business, seem anxious to crowd in a half day the work of two days.

Miss Georgia Carpenter did well in a recitation of the "Battle of Waterloo," poem.

The first heavy exercise was modes of the verb by D. M. C. Gault. The speaker had evidently spent time and read extensively on the subject. The different mode forms was put on the board. The subject was opened for discussion. Mr. Meacham called for Mr. Buff. Mr. B. felt somewhat aggrieved at having been choked off several times, and though he confessed that he had no knowledge of the subject, he proceeded to talk some time, producing audible smiles among the audience.

Mrs. Belle W. Cook mentioned a sentence in Clark's grammar; and desired that an analysis should be given of it, but owing to the fact that it was foreign to the subject it was ruled out.

Mr. Porter gives his method. He stood by Clark. He believed it was best to take the good and let the rest go.

Dr. Rowland made some sensible remarks and was followed by Mr. King, who spoke for a short time on the subjunctive mode, saying that it was easy to tell when a verb was in the subjunctive mode by considering whether the auxiliary verbs may, will or shall can be used in the connection.

Prof. Johnson thought that quibbling about textbooks was useless. Here the discussion of modes was closed.

T. F. Campbell here spoke of an educational journal in the state, and your reporter thought that he canvassed just a little for his paper at Monmouth.

King followed, complimenting the press of the state for courtesies extended.

"School Government," by J. T. Gregg, of Salem, was a carefully written paper, and was well received.

The following resolutions, that had before been referred to a select committee consisting of Messrs. Powell, Johnson and Atkinson, were reported back and adopted:

LAND GRANT FOR PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Resolved, 1. That our common schools give the key of knowledge to the masses of the people, and that they are important and invaluable to the people because, being common, they are open to all—to the rich and to the poor, to high and low, to pagan and Christian, to believer and infidel.

2. That they are the corner-stone of our republican form of government and the fountains from which flow the enriching and wide-spreading streams of intelligence, which pervade the country and give to it moral beauty and life.

3. That the late Nathan Dane, LL. D., of Massachusetts, who was the author of the policy of donating lands for the location of public lands for the support of common schools, merits the lasting gratitude of all the friends of education in the United States.

4. That to Hon. J. Quinn Thornton, of Oregon, is in like manner and degree, due the gratitude of the friends of education for having, by his persistent labors and untiring zeal, succeeded in inducing the congress of the United States, on the 14th of August, 1848, to incorporate into his bill for organizing the Territory of Oregon the 36th section (see General Laws of Oregon, page 62); that in securing the 36th section of every township for public schools, in addition to the 16th section, of the Territory of Oregon, and all future territories to be erected out of it, Judge Thornton practically secured the same large grant of land for schools in all other territories and states to be formed thereafter out of the national domain, including national purchases like California, New Mexico, Arizona and Alaska, and that he thereby merits the gratitude of all the friends of education.

Judge Thornton happening by accident to be in the room, arose to speak, but was unable to do so for some time because of emotion. He said he had not been so effected since he heard it announced in Washington nearly thirty years ago.

Here the committee on resolutions reported as follows:

Resolved, 1. That the thanks of the Institute be tendered the O. & C. and O. C. R. R. companies for their reduction in fare, and also to the W. T. T. Co.

2. That the thanks of the Institute be tendered to the citizens of Salem for their hospitable reception and entertainment of the teachers and others in attendance upon this body; also to the proprietors of the various hotels of the city for their generous reduction of rates.

3. That our thanks are due, and are hereby given to the members of the executive committee, and also the superintendent of public instruction, for their efficient management of the business affairs of this Institute.

4. That our hearty thanks be given to Messrs. Hall, Wright and Dearborn, special committee of arrangements, for their valuable services in managing the interesting exercises of the evening of the members of the Institute; and also to the brass band and ladies and gentlemen, who favored the Institute with such fine selections of vocal and instrumental music.

5. That the press generally receive our thanks for their kindly notices of the proceedings of the Institute.

6. That it is the sense of this Institute that no public funds should be devoted to the support of sectarian schools.

7. That oral instruction in grammar should be commenced at an early age, and that the text book be not placed in the hands of the pupil until 12 years of age.

8. That the subject of constitutional government should be embraced in the curriculum of studies in the public schools. That every district should provide its school with all necessary apparatus, such as blackboards, maps, charts and globes.

9. That it is the sense of this Institute that the standard of qualifications for teachers be materially raised.

That lady teachers should receive the same compensation as men for performing similar service with equal ability.

L. J. Powell introduced the following resolution which was adopted:

WHEREAS, The efficiency of our common schools depends so essentially upon the qualifications and thorough training of the teacher, and

WHEREAS, We have here not up to this time any well organized training, or normal school within the state, therefore

Resolved, That we do most earnestly call the attention of our next legislature to this matter, and hope they may for the common welfare of the thousands of children in our state, that are annually gathered into the school houses for instruction, make provision by legislative enactment for the establishment in an early day of a state normal school, where the young men and women desiring to devote themselves to the work of teaching, may secure that thorough preparation which will enable them in a short time to make our schools rank in efficiency with those of our sister states.

2. That our honorable superintendent of public instruction be respectfully asked to embody in his next biennial report to the legislature, the substance of this preamble and resolution with the voce of this large and representative body of teachers on the same.

The institute adjourned till 7:30 P. M.

Evening Session.

Vice-President Mrs. N. E. Morse called Institute to order, and shortly after President Gault entered amid great applause.

First came music on the piano, by Mrs. England.

Next order of business was the reading of the minutes of the day's session by Miss Clara Watt, assistant secretary.

After a few corrections minutes were approved. A lecture, entitled "What next?" by Prof. E. K. Warren, of Albany, was delivered in pleasing style. He drew a graphic and impressive picture of affairs, social and political, and of the dangers which threaten the liberty of our nation. We think the gentleman's discourse was considerably marred by the reproaches against the poor education of girls, when before him were scores of women from all parts of the state, who, by their earnest participation in the exercises of this Institute have fully proven that their thoughts are as noble, and education as thorough as those of the nobler sex.

Music, vocal and instrumental, came next, Miss Hernandez presiding at the piano.

Select reading, by Miss Clara Watt, "Portia's plea for mercy," was well rendered. Rev. Jos. Emery, of Corvallis, lectured on "Moral culture" for some moments. The critic's report was then read by Mr. L. Bilyeu.

Dr. Hudson objected to one criticism, but the critic chained the floor. Mrs. Belle Cook, the other critic, then read her report.

Music, "Grand chorus," by Miss Hernandez followed, when the Institute adjourned to the reunion at the Chemeketa.

There lunch was had, and toasts proposed and responded to by Hon. Rufus Mallory, T. F. Campbell, Thomas Condon, Mrs. Belle W. Cook and Superintendent Rawland.

The wife of J. W. Cusick is the acknowledged champion shootest of Cherry Creek, in Wasco county. One day last week she bagged not less than tengrouse, all on the wing.

THE FAMOUS ELCHO SHIELD.

The New York Herald has this description of the bauble that has been so much talked about for the past few weeks:

"The Elcho Shield was presented in 1862 by Lord Elcho for annual competition between England and Scotland. Ireland was afterward allowed to compete for it. Since the competition commenced the shield has been won eight times by England, four years by Scotland, and now twice by Ireland. No eights from the British Colonies or elsewhere were ever allowed to compete for the Elcho Shield, the simple reason being that it is restricted to Great Britain and Ireland; nor would it be allowed to go out of what is called the United Kingdom.

"This remarkable trophy is about forty-eight inches high and twenty-six wide. As it stands in the exhibition tent at Wimbledon Common, supported on an appropriate pedestal, the beholder would scarcely desire to look on a finer piece of workmanship. It is embossed solid silver, and the workmanship is of exquisite touch and finish. The surface has a dull tint, like oxidized silver—which, in fact, it is. The shield is divided into a number of compartments, each one emblazoned with some brave tradition of British history. Queen Elizabeth and the present reigning sovereign of Great Britain are given prominent places among the bold Knights and fair dames of historic celebrity who serve to illustrate certain passages of English history. The most artistic chiseling is employed to bring out the details of battle-pieces which adorn the borders of the shield, and figures, men in armor on horseback and on foot, are made as plain and palpable to the eye as the artist's cunning hand can cut them. Battle-and hunting scenes are composed and executed with great fidelity to nature. The price of this exquisite piece of workmanship is said to be $10,000."

RAILROAD ENGINEERING.—Any one desiring to obtain any idea of the stupendous accomplishments of railroad engineering should spend a few days in the Tehachapie Pass, investigating the operations of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company. About twenty miles of the road is a succession of cuts, fills and tunnels. Within this distance there are thirteen tunnels, ranging from 1,100 feet to a few yards in length. For a greater portion of the way the road-bed is cut through solid granite. The elevation is so great from the present terminus of the road at Caliente to Tehachapie Valley that the first mile and a-half out of Caliente is attained by laying down eight miles of track. Higher up in the pass the road runs through a tunnel, encircles the hill, and going half around again, the track doubles on itself like a closely-pursued hare, and after running several miles in the opposite direction strikes up the canyon. This circulating and doubling is for grade. Once the track crosses the pass, and this involves the building of a long and very high bridge. We doubt if a more difficult and expensive piece of engineering was encountered in the building of the Central Pacific over the Sierras than that with which the Southern Pacific is now struggling in Tehachapie Pass. Another tremendous piece of work is the San Fernando tunnel, which, when completed, will be over a mile and a-half in length, and in places over 1,000 feet beneath the surface. Yet the company will accomplish this great work and run cars through from San Francisco to Los Angeles by the first of next July. All the force that can be used is kept at work on the San Fernando tunnel. In the Tehachapie Pass 5,000 men are employed, and the force is being increased at the rate of 1,000 Chinamen per week.

THE PILOTS OF THE SUEZ CANAL.—It strikes everybody as a little singular, that out of the twenty-six pilots in the Canal Company's employ, only three should be Englishmen, the remainder being of Italian, Austrian, and French nationality. This, at a time when seventy per cent. of the vessels using the canal fly the British flag, seems inexplicable, and sometimes leads to curious complications. A tragic incident is related of one of these pilots, a Frenchman, who ran the vessel he was in charge of aground, and, every other means having failed to float her off, applied to the English captain to discharge his cargo, which consisted of a telegraph cable. This he positively refused to do, and the pilot having exhausted every argument upon him without effect, retired to his cabin and committed suicide by cutting his throat. His grave may still be seen on the banks of the canal, and his countryman, the chief of the department at Ismailia, in relating the occurrence, added, in a tone of admiration, "After all, was it not a heroic death?"—Temple Bar.

There are 80,000 pending applications for pensions in the pension office. Hitherto the clerks have not been able to keep up with the current work of each day's mail, and the number of cases in arrears have been increased. During the last two months the number of cases in arrears was reduced 2,000. Numerous cases of attempted fraud are constantly discovered.

A Corvallis dispatch of the 4th, says: "R. Y. McCune's steam sawmill, with a large amount of lumber and an adjoining dwelling house occupied by Wm. Jacobs, were burned last night. Loss very heavy. No insurance. It is supposed to be the work of an incendiary as there had been no fire in the mill since Monday last."

THE PURPOSE OF THE STAR.

MCMINNVILLE, Sept. 3, 1875.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

The course that the Temperance Star is taking during the present political campaign, causes much surprise among temperance people in this county. No one is surprised that the Star should advocate the claims of a temperance candidate, with the ultimate object of building up a party devoted entirely to that cause. The fact of the temperance organ supporting Mr. Dimick would excite no comment whatever. But why should that paper make such a persistent fight against Warren, who is a well known temperance man? The opinion is freely expressed up here that the true reason is that Mr. Enoch Turner wishes to see Lane elected, and is running Dimick to draw votes away from the Republican nominee. Every issue of that paper, since the nominations were made, plainly show this to be the object. The anxious fear that Mr. Whitney would not run, the malicious attack on the editor of the OREGONIAN for the course he had taken, and last, but not least, the private letters which Mr. Turner finds time to write to Republicans, who he knows are favorable to the temperance cause, urging them to go for Dimick and bitterly denouncing Mr. Warren, at the same time assuring them that Lane is bound to be elected, indicate very surely where that gentlemen stands.

It is very much to be regretted that a paper, built up by the different temperance organizations of the state, should be run in an underhanded way in the interest of a whisky candidate.

XXX.

A SINGULAR THEFT.

A Washington dispatch, of August 21st, to the New York Times, has this:

This afternoon a horse and wagon were backed up to the postoffice building, on the F street side, when two or three persons began loading the wagon from the basement with sacks of what appeared to be waste paper. The watchman approaching them, they ran away, leaving the horse and wagon, which were transferred to the police. The contents of the wagon proved to be money-order blanks, worth about $20 per thousand. As near as could be estimated, about 100,000 of them are missing, and it is probable that some were taken before to-day. The entire basement is undergoing repairs, and a large gang of stone-cutters and laborers are constantly passing out and in while teams are loading and unloading material. The thieves took advantage of this opportunity to commit the larceny.

SUDDEN DEATH OF A KENTUCKY BLASPHEMER.—The "Henderson Reporter says: A man named Louis Burke, who lived at Burkesville, in this county, a few days ago indulged in very blasphemous language, because his crops had been destroyed by high water. He cursed God for having his crops destroyed by hail and drought, and for destroying them this year by flood, and concluded his blasphemy of the Creator with the expression: "God damn him!" His tongue clove to the roof of his mouth, and he died the next night, never uttering another word.

THE TERRITORIES.

Adelbert J. Griffin died of a paralytic stroke at Boise City on the 27th ult.

C. P. Ferry, for a long time employed in the railroad land office at Tacoma, has gone to Seattle to reside.

On Monday next the new Ilwaco steamer will be launched at South Bend, and named in honor of the lamented Gen. Canby.

Mr. A. G. Allen, late of Fort Canby, has been appointed post sutler at Fort Townsend, W. T., and has left for his new home.

The Seattle coal companies are unable to furnish all the coal called for from abroad, although bringing in some 400 tons daily.

Rev. Mr. Fairchild, presiding elder of the Puget Sound district, has settled in Seattle, and will make it headquarters for his work.

The Transcript learns that two children living near Oakville, on the Chehalis, have been missing for about two weeks, and that there are suspicions of foul play.

A clergyman at Vancouver denies that any of the ministers of that place are mixed up in any Beecher case, as might be inferred from an item copied from the Register of that place.

An Indian girl, captured in the Indian war in Idaho five years ago, and since residing in the family of the late Judge Miller, at Silver City, has been kidnapped by members of her tribe.

Kind friends are having the grounds about the grave of Jas. W. Wiley, in the Olympia cemetery, formerly editor of the Columbian, first paper published in Washington Territory, and afterwards of the Pioneer and Democrat, neatly arranged and the fencing painted.

From Mr. Lockwood, who lives near Wallula, on the Yakima river, the Mountaineer learns the sad tidings that Mr. Henry Marlin, formerly a resident of The Dalles, was run over while engaged in hauling hay, some ten days ago, and was not expected to recover.

A correspondent of the Seattle Dispatch, writing from Snohomish, says: Judge R. Haskell, of this place, has commenced the erection of a gristmill six miles above here. The location is favorable, and it is hoped by all that the enterprise will prove a success, as the great want of the valley for a long time has been a number one flouring mill.

It was stated a few days ago that in all about 25,000,000 feet of timber had been cut at Tulalip, since logging first began there. This estimate, we are informed by competent authority, was just about half correct, the true amount being nearer 50,000,000 feet. The years 1872

MONDAY MORNING SEPTEMBER 6 1875

MR DELANO'S OPPORTUNITY

Now is a good time for Mr Columbus Delano to retire from the Cabinet The Red Cloud investigating commission have examined the cloud of witnesses that compassed them about and have found the case made against the management of that Indian agency wholly without foundation in truth and have announced their agreement, so say the dispatches to exonerate Mr Delano The telegraph does not transmit the information in exactly those words It says the commission have concluded to whitewash the devoted Secretary, but it is all the same 'Whitewashing," "kalsomining," and so forth, are only the malicious modes by which malicious persons are apt to express it when a great and good man like Mr Columbus Delano, Secretary of the Interior is exculpated by the report of an impartial committee of his own naming, from calumnies such as those that have been heaped upon the distinguished Secretary

A little while ago it was given out that Mr Delano was about to step down and out at the suggestion of the President, on account of some trifling complications in which the junior Delano had been discovered, and which had received such countenance and protection from the paternal Delano as comported better with the sentiment of parental affection than with that of official purity And it is a singular, and by no means creditable fact that the public journals of this great and glorious Republic, instead of joining in a united protest against the retirement of Mr Delano, factually stood up, an almost solid column, regardless of party proclivities, and declared the President would render the country a valuable service by replacing the secretary with some man of the same genéral stripe as Postmaster-General Jewell and Secretary Bristow, while a sigh of relief was breathed by the misguided people at large, over the prospect of seeing and hearing no more of Columbus Delano All will remember with what manly dignity the great Secretary then appealed to the President not to force him to leave under fire," with an implied if not an express assertion of his purpose to shake the official dust from his feet as soon as the metaphorical rattle of the metaphorical musketry should abate a little It was such a chivalrous recognition of the true situation as, perhaps, none but a military man like Grant would have made, when the President handed the metaphorical sword back to the beleaguered Delano and told him, in substance and effect, to fight it out on that line if it took all summer

But now it has been as nearly fought out on that line by the Secretary as it is likely ever to be, and the most recent, if not the last, stain on his record is just about to be rendered invisible by the kalsomining skill of the Red Cloud commission, and the opportune time for his decent retirement is certainly at hand It is to be hoped he will go. So good a man should not be placed "under fire" too often The country does not require it of him The people are more than willing to see that particular part for the target of lead-pencil practice taken down Even the lead pencil marksmen themselves, though by no means noted for their generosity, will not insist upon having him kept forever where they can draw a bead on him at pleasure If he should seize the present opportunity and retire in good order, a unanimous "Let him go," would, we are persuaded, echo from all classes and parties, throughout the entire country Let him go

"IN THE INTEREST OF SCIENCE

Another voyage to the north pole "in the interest of science,' is being prosecuted England has the matter in hand this time England and the United States engage in this enterprise alternately, and Germany dips into it once in a while to break the monotony Just what interest of science is subserved by these voyages has not yet been explained If the undertaking were baptized by some other name than science, it might be less difficult to comprehend it These expeditions might, perhaps, be properly set on foot by those countries in which there is a redundancy of population, as a means of disposing of a few of the surplus men, without the indecency of shooting them down But as scientific enterprises they are, to all practical purposes, the most insignificant and absurd performances imaginable The shape of the earth, its weight, its inclination on its axis, all its motions, are already well known, and speculative science suggests not one thing to be settled by ocular demonstration, except the utterly unimportant question whether that portion of the surface of the globe immediately about the pole is ice or open water And even that question would not be settled by a successful trip to the pole, for no sooner would the successful voyager make known the condition in which he found the region visited, than the whole race of speculative scientists would be rending the intellectual firmament with disputes as to whether that condition was permanent or only temporary and accidental The early polar voyages were undertaken for the very sensible and practical purpose of discovering if possible, a northwestern passage for commerce They were not seeking a polar sea but a channel near the northern boundary of the continent through which vessels might pass to the western ocean Then came a series of expeditions in search of the explorers who were lost in the former expeditions These were rational objects. But when the thing came to be merely a strife for who should go farthest into the oceans of ice it lost all claim to countenance, and the ridiculous pretense of adding some useful truths to geographical knowledge only adds to its absurdity The present expedition under the auspices of the English government is to winter this year at the upper end of Baffin's Bay, to push forward toward the pole next summer, and probably not to return till a year later That is the announced programme The bones of some of the voyagers may be brought home and others may be left along with those of Captain Hall who was the last American contribution Or the explorers may retreat and reach home broken down and ready to die like Kane At all events it is safe to predict the most noteworthy result of this expedition as of its predecessors will be to demonstrate the inutility of all such undertakings—"in the interest of science

NO BOURBON IN OURS

Our evening neighbor thinks the OREGONIAN a good Republican paper because it does not speak in flattering terms of the Bourbon Democracy If that is the test by which it is to be determined whether a paper is Republican or not the OREGONIAN has always been a Republican paper We have no more nor any less sympathy with Bourbonism at this time than at any time heretofore and our readers have no need to be told that the measure of our sympathy in that direction is not large The OREGONIAN is an independent newspaper but it never was and we fondly trust never will be a neutral A journal that is not moved by any sentiments on political questions takes no sides, expresses no preferences may do well enough for a circulating bulletin board, but as a moral power it is a nonentity The OREGONIAN has never allowed its position to be mistaken by any who were not willing to mistake it It is the friend of active progressive and aggressive principle and the opposer of all theories that mean stagnation, fossilization or retrogression It cannot, therefore but be opposed to Bourbon politics

THE NEW BANK OF CALIFORNIA

The dispatches this morning announce on apparently the most reliable authority that the Bank of California is soon to be resuscitated The conventional term is that it will resume but that term is wholly inapplicable to the case It is not to be a resumption, but a resurrection The particulars of the proposed reorganization are, that a new capital of $5,000,000 cash is to be raised, of which D O Mills, the former president of the institution, subscribes $1 000,000, Michael Reese, $1,000 000 William Sharon, $1,000 000 James R Keene, $1 000,000, and $1 000,000 is divided up among a number of smaller capitalists. Mr Mills will in all probability take the position of president, as under his management it always prospered Under the name of the 'Bank of California' a bank is to be organized which is for all future purposes except for the settling up of the affairs of the old bank, a new institution, drawing its life from a new source There is every reason to hope it will be a legitimate banking institution and therefore a success

GOVERNOR IRWIN

William Irwin, who has just been elected Governor of California is a gentleman of very considerable ability and some scholarly attainments He is not a professional politician, but has nevertheless served the people of California in one or two public offices He has been, at one time and another, in both branches of the State legislature, where he was regarded as a useful member, rather than a useful partisan He is a college bred man and said to be a thorough student, going to the bottom of whatever he takes hold of In personal bearing he is dignified, deliberate and exact. Whether he will be as popular at the expiration of his term of office as he is at the entrance upon it, depends mainly on the question whether he shall maintain, in the discharge of the high functions devolved upon him, the strong, honest individuality which has characterized his conduct in minor positions, or surrender his manhood to his Democracy and become merely the automaton of the party organization

If Clayton is actually beaten by Bryant the Democratic candidate for mayor of San Francisco, it is not worth while for anybody to count on success by reason of having the nominations of parties Clayton's name headed the regular Republican ticket the People's Unsectarian Free School ticket the Tax payers and Citizens ticket and the 'Committee of One Hundred ticket All these were distinct organizations and made the nominations independent of each other And yet Clayton appears to have come out second best

The corruptionists King and Schumaker whose dark doings were unearthed in the course of the Pacific Mail investigation last winter are likely to escape punishment on account of the absence of a necessary witness Richard B Irwin who is in Europe It is intimated he went to Europe to avoid being compelled to testify

The great question that looms up in the social horizon is that of the common school system Whether it will yet rise to the rank of a controlling element in political parties no one can foretell with certainty but it is already occupying as large a place in the thoughts of thoughtful people as almost any other subject

The Republicans of Mississippi are not working very harmoniously Scenes in their state convention are characterized as positively disgraceful and the Daily Times a prominent Republican paper published at the capital protests vigorously against the resolution adopted endorsing the administration of Governor Ames

Studies will be resumed to day at Christian College Monmouth This institution is enjoying a very cheering degree of prosperity under the efficient and discreet administration of Rev T J Campbell

The facts connected with the failure of the Bank of California as now authentically made known are a complete vindication of the course pursued by the San Francisco Bulletin before the failure

DR F CURTIS

A Medical Essay on the cause and cure of premature decline in man showing how health and vigor lost may be regained It gives a clear exposition of the impediments to marriage the consequences of abuse and physical debility exposes the quackery and vile impositions of all other diseases superficially and is worthy its distinguished author a public in its character, the reception will be as nearly representative as possible, and with this view invitations are being extended to the governor and staff, United States, state and county officials, the press clergy, U S army officers the commissioned officers of the state militia and prominent citizens.

We presume the army and militia officers will appear in uniform, and this added to the varied surroundings such as the ladies' toilettes and the brilliantly lighted rooms, will make a scene one of unusual grandeur for Portland. Besides the local instrumentalists, the 23d U S infantry band will lend its presence on this occasion and supply the promenade music. Upon inquiry we learn that the reception proper will be from 9 to 11 o'clock During these hours the concert programme will be adhered to after which the lovers of terpsichore may trip it to their hearts content

LEG SEVERELY CRUSHED—Last Friday a man named Henry Watson who was employed at the St. Helens sawmill, met with a very severe accident. Watson was engaged in rolling a large log when, by accident, his foot slipped and he fell His hold on the log, as a matter of course broke loose, and it came rolling over One leg was caught and badly crushed, the bones in two places between the knee and ankle being fractured Watson also sustained painful bruises in various portions of the body Medical aid was immediately summoned and the broken bones carefully adjusted When last heard from, Watson was suffering but little and the prospects of speedy recovery was quite encouraging

GREAT TOE SEVERED—On Saturday morning a man named Patrick Malone, while engaged in chopping wood on Third street, had the misfortune to sever the great toe from his left foot He struck a powerful blow, when the axe glanced, and coming in contact with his boot passed through, severely cutting his foot. The boot was drawn off, when it was found that the axe had struck the toe where it joins the foot, and was only attached by a small bit of skin At the sight of his condition Malone fainted and in that condition was conveyed to his home. A physician was summoned and the wound dressed. It is thought that the toe may be saved.

AMUSEMENTS.

New Market theater was tolerably well filled on Saturday evening, the occasion being the first appearance in this city of Prof A. E. Rice the marvelous mind reader During the course of the evening, Prof. Rice gave a number of mental tests to the satisfaction of the audience While it can be said that the tests are unmistakable in their character, yet they seem to lack the clearness which is desirable, and were not given as rapidly as one would naturally expect The first test he attempted to give was rather a failure, but whether attributable to the failure of Prof. Rice to receive and return the correct impression, or to the uncertain mental condition of the person on whom he was making the test, we are unable to determine. He gave a number of other tests, and in each instance succeeded in taking the person to the articles which they had mentally selected. Several articles were hid in different parts of the house and found by Mr Rice without difficulty We are requested to state that Prof. Rice will be at the museum every night during the present week Persons who have a desire to test his wonderful powers of mind reading should not fail to give him a test There will be no additional charge for giving these tests, only the usual prices of admission to the museum will be asked This will be the last time in all human probability that Prof. Rice will ever appear in this state. He is under engagement to go to Australia, and in a few days will return to California.

THE PROGRESS CLUB RECEPTION.

Brilliant as have been the receptions given by this club on various occasions, none, we anticipate, have equaled in magnificence the one which is to be given to General Sheridan to-morrow evening The general has signified that he will take his departure hence on Wednesday next, therefore preparations on the part of the club are necessarily hurried, yet acting in its own capacity and with that liberality for which it has become noted, it will spare no means to give an eclat to the four worthy its distinguished guest Although not public in its character, the reception will be as nearly representative as possible, and with this view invitations are being

SHIP ON FIRE.

THE SHIP CITY OF YORK CAUGHT FIRE—CARGO DAMAGED

Just a moment before the city clock tolled the hour of 9, last evening the big bell rang out in startling accents an alarm of fire It came from box No 16 which is located at the Clarendon Hotel and thitherward the several fire companies and the excited crowd turned their footsteps Before reaching the hotel mentioned, many supposing it was a false alarm turned and came back However the fire companies kept on until reaching First and F street A moment later and the startling cry was heard A ship is on fire the City of York is on fire! This vessel was lying at the Greenwich dock partially loaded with wheat, and to reach her with the steam engines was a question not so easily solved Resolving to prove equal to the emergency Columbian Co No 3 and Liger Co No 5 ran out G street to East Park, down that street to the margin of Couch's lake Here some horses were obtained by the aid of which the engines were dragged across the lake and took positions on the Greenwich wharf and rendered very effective service in extinguishing the fire which by that time was burning fiercely Willamette Engine Co with their accustomed pluck, managed to draw the engine down as far as the boneyard Taking water from the river, they run the hose along, down to the dock It was several hundred feet from where the engine was stationed to the burning vessel and it was with the greatest difficulty that the hose-cart was dragged over the old condemned boats the wharf and piles of accumulated rubbish but by the greatest exertions they reached the scene in time and did some excellent work There being no particular need for the other two engines—Nos 2 and 4—Chief Engineer Hallock ordered them home The

FIRE WAS DISCOVERED

On board the City of York about 10 minutes before 9 o clock, by the steward Mr I Chappell He first smelled something burning, and on going aft in the cabin to discover the cause was dismayed at seeing quantities of smoke issuing from below On opening the trap door leading to the ship s stores the smoke and heat was sufficient to knock the steward off his feet He arose hastily and running forward on the deck, shouted to the crew that the ship was on fire Mr John Shaw the second mate was standing on the dock at the moment conversing with a gentleman Hearing Chappell s cry fire Shaw leaped on board and gave orders for several of the crew to run up toward the Clarendon Hotel and give the alarm This was done as quickly as possible and officer Sheehan gave the alarm from box No 16 which promptly called out the department It was found that the dunnage was on fire in the hold near the stern A candle in all probability had been left burning when the men who were loading the vessel quit work late in the evening which burned down and falling over set fire to the sacks of wheat How long it had smouldered before being discovered by the steward is not known but the fire was doubtless silently and unseen at work several hours prior to the alarm The fire had burned up on each side of the vessel between the iron hull and the dunnage, and burned nearly through the floor of the middle deck before being extinguished Great difficulty was experienced in subduing the fire as its exact position could not be determined, while the blinding and suffocating clouds of smoke and the intolerable heat drove back repeatedly the plucky firemen Chief Engineer Hallock with his accustomed coolness and judicious management soon had the fire under complete control and its progress checked Great quantities of water were thrown in at random sufficient to have drowned a fire four or five times as large but it was utterly impossible to save the ship in any other way One o'clock had arrived before the fire was entirely out and the danger passed

About 240 short tons of wheat were in the hold a large proportion of which was wet by the water thrown down Seventy tons at least is more or less damaged and will probably be worthless except for chop or feed At present the exact damage to the cargo can not be ascertained though it will not fall far short of $5,000 All that portion of the cargo which is fit will have to be taken out and the remainder shifted about which will occasion considerable delay Two hundred dollars will repair all damage sustained by the vessel while $600 will not more than make the loss good for the ship s stores destroyed Considering the location of the fire and the great difficulty encountered by the companies in reaching the scene the captain crew, owner and consignees can congratulate themselves on the fortunate result. Capt. Auld, First Mate Robt Buchanan Second Mate Jno Shaw Steward I Chappell and the ship s crew deserve great credit for the coolness and presence of mind displayed during the excitement Of our gallant fire boys headed by the efficient chief and his assistants it is wholly needless to speak During the time the fire was burning, the pumps on board the ship were kept running to clear her of the water Up to 10 o clock yesterday forenoon they were kept in motion before all the water was out

The City of York is comparatively a new vessel, being only six years old She came from Liverpool to this port and is owned by George Smith & Sons of Glasgow Her registered capacity is 1,198

MONDAY MORNING SEPTEMBER 6 1875

THE ABSURDITY OF IT

It is all very well for the poets to tell
By way of their song adorning
Of milkmaids who rouse to manipulate cows
At five o clock in the morning
And of moony young mowers who bundle outdoors—
The charms of their straw beds scorning—
Before break of day to make love and hay
At five o clock in the morning

But between me and you it is all untrue—
Believe me you will they utter
To no milkman did olive dress the finger of Five
Bring beaux—or even bring butter
The poor sleepy cows, if told to arouse
Would do so perhaps in a horning
But the sweet country girls would they show their curls
At five o clock in the morning?

It may not be wrong for the man in the song—
Or the moon—if anxious to settle
To kneel in wet grass and pop but alas
What if he pop spell down on a nettle?
For how could he see what was under his knee
If in spite of my friendly warning
He went out of bed and like moons and like lead
At five o clock in the morning?

It is all very well such stories to tell
But if I were a mail I all for turning
And a lover should drop in the clover to pop
At five o clock in the morning
If I liked him, or owed I dare say I'd ease call at Three
If not I'd turn on him ith scorning
Don t come here you flat with conundrums like that
At five o clock in the morning — John Paul

SHORT HINTS CONCERNING SICKNESS

Don't whisper in the sick-room

When the doctor comes to see you, remember how many pairs of stairs he has to climb every day, and go down to him if you are well enough

When you are sitting up at night with a patient, be sure to have something to eat, if you wish to save yourself unnecessary exhaustion

Remember that sick people are not necessarily idiotic or imbecile, and that it is not always wise to try to persuade them that their sufferings are imaginary They may even at times know best what they need.

Never deceive a dying person unless by the doctor's express orders It is not only wrong to allow any soul to go into eternity without preparation, but how can you tell but that he has something he ought to tell or do before he goes away?

If you have a sick friend to whom you wish to be of use, do not content yourself with sending her flowers and jelly, but lend her one of your pictures to hang in place of hers, or a bronze to replace the one at which she is so tired of staring

Don't have needless conversations with the doctor outside of the sick room Nothing will excite and irritate a nervous patient sooner If you do have such conversations, don't tell the patient that the doctor said "nothing" He won't believe you, and he will imagine the worst possible

In lifting the sick, do not take them by the shoulders and drag them up on the pillows, but get some one to help you. Let one stand on one side of the patient, the other opposite, then join hands under the shoulders and hips, and lift steadily and promptly together This method is easy for those who lift, and does not disturb the one who is lifted

Do not imagine that your duty is over when you have nursed your patient through his illness, and he is about the house, or perhaps going out again Strength does not come back in a moment, and the days when little things worry and little efforts exhaust, when the cares of business begin to press, but the feeble brain and hand refuse to think and execute, are the most trying to the sick one, and then comes the need for your tenderest care, your most unobtrusive watchfulness —"Home and Society," Scribner for September

"I WANT TO BE AN EDITOR."

Next to a taste for brandy and billiards, the most ruinous idea a young man, or an old one, can get into his head is that he was born to be an editor If we were to print the letters we receive in a year from young men afflicted with this mania, it would be a saddening sight A lad with no particular ability, and with foolish parents, has been kept at school till he has grown to manhood, and is then ashamed to learn a trade or begin life as an office-boy, or even to look for a situation as a salesman, he thinks he must be an editor Another youth of the same mental calibre is sent to college and breaks down, either for want of money or brains, before half his time is expired, he, too, falls back on journalism as just the profession he was created to adorn We notice, indeed, that most of the young men who want to be editors are those who have had a year or two of college life, and no more

A scissors, a paste pot and a facility for stringing words on a line, are supposed to be the entire stock in-trade of an editor We know quite a number of men who started, and a large number who want to start as editors on this capital, and the poor fellows who tried have long faces and empty pockets, as those about to try will have next year To such people we venture to make an argumentum ad crumenam —and also ad ignorantiam—which, however, we fear will have little effect

A newspaper directory for 1875 (Rowell's) has just appeared, and it teaches a harsh lesson In cold figures it shows that starting newspapers is one of the most common, yet disastrous speculations in this country During the past twelve months over one thousand American newspapers have failed! Among those who went into the newspaper business during the year and lost heavily thereby, were 275 merchants, 375 school teachers, 57 lawyers, 4 blacksmiths, 33 plasterers, 10 farmers, 200 fanatics of various classes, 100 visionary young men who drew upon their fathers and thus suddenly exhausted large margins of paternal capital, and 6 lottery men —Boston Pilot

VERSICAL ODDS AND ENDS

Who, among us men with a sentimental turn has not sometime watched Somebody's window, and sighed forth our adoration in something like the following

O, damsel of the azure eyes
And of the auburn tresses
I, your adorer worship you
With infinite caresses.
I watch your window evenings
Hear sunny for the night
Of the slim-face that is o er
Its square of tender light.
You lay your breast warmed jewels down,
Long hair falls in tresses shoulders
Then, draw the blind and so shut out
Impertinent beholders

THE DEATH OF WILLIE.

Willie had a purple monkey climbing on a yellow stick,
And when he sucked the paint all off, it made him very sick
And in his latest hours he clasped that monkey in his hand
And bid good bye to earth and went into a better land.

Oh no more he'll shoot his sister with his little wooden gun
And no more he'll twist the pussy s tail and make her sour for fun
The pussy s tail now stands out straight the gun is laid aside
The monkey doesn t jump around since little Willie died.

The Muses never favored a man who could write such lines as these

Adam laid down and slept and from a side
A woman in her magic beauty rose
Dazzled and charmed he called the woman bride
And his first sleep became his last repose

The death of the prominent Cincinnati who recently figured conspicuously in all the newspapers, is thus touchingly alluded to in the St Louis Republican His end has cast a shade of gloom upon the entire community, every other Cincinnatian feels as though he had lost a brother

A l opess from Lybia s desert waste
With rattling heels he boldly dared to paste
She scratched him, and the scratches mortified t
In seventeen weeks the little jack as died
Gone to meet Sergeant Bates

Grief knits two hearts in closer bonds than happiness ever can and common sufferings are far stronger links than common joys

The financial status is unchanged and the inability to procure loans is working an inconvenience in some respects to the trade interests The hope is entertained however and is well founded that the present condition of the money market which only seems to be waiting the settlement of affairs in San Francisco will not continue any length of time or do its will materially lessen the aggregate volume of the fall business

The Breadstuffs Market

Though most of the fall grain in Oregon is now under shelter farmers are reported to be in the midst of the work of harvesting their spring crops and it is feared that very serious damage will result to many fields from the heavy rains of the the last day or two The warehouses on the lines of transportation are filling with wheat quite rapidly and in the present condition of the market the accumulation will be still greater before any extended movement takes place

The North British Agriculturist of the 13th of August says The wheat crop in Scotland is considerably under an average. Oats though short in straw promises a satisfactory yield Potatoes though not in every part of the country a promising crop are as yet growing and healthy

Launceston the northeast district of Tasmania Van Diemen s Land indicate by the agricultural returns a surplus of 14 000 quarters of wheat for export, being an increase in the yield of wheat of 110 000 bushels, and in oats of 119 000 bushels The average wheat product per acre was 18½ bushels

The prospects in the Northern Baltic ports in Denmark Sweden and Finland are favorable with an abundant crop expected principally in oats and barley There were no receipts of grain in Baltic ports excepting old wheat all had been taken for shipment to France Holland Belgium and the United Kingdom during the recent advance in values

Mail advices from Odessa under date of July 28 1875 report an active market at enhanced prices for wheat the transactions aggregating 400 000 tschetwerts, equal to 2 400 000 bushels of which there were specified sales of 305 000 tschetwerts equal to 1,833 000 bushels

In Holland, the oat and rye crops had been mostly housed

Australia has exported of her surplus about 100 000 tons of wheat and wheat flour and has a surplus of this amount for export out of the crop of 1875 harvested in December and January last.

The movement of wheat from Egypt for the United Kingdom has been considerably augmented and that from Odessa has been diminished.

The arrivals of wheat in Marseilles for the week ended July 31st were 800 000 bushels at which date there were in store 448 000 bushels.

There were in transit for the United Kingdom on the 5th of August, 1875 10 312 800 bushels of wheat and 2 000 000 bushels of Indian corn against 5 649 112 bushels of wheat and 2 651 120 bushels of Indian corn at the corresponding date in 1874

The Russian minister of the Interior reports returns from ten Russian governments in regard to the condition of the crops as follows

In the government of Kieff the condition of the wheat crop is not satisfactory, owing to the long continued drought. The hay harvest has terminated and affords a poor result

In the government of Tchernigoff hay carrying has been accomplished under very dry weather The scarcity of fodder is sensibly felt. The winter wheat crop is below an average In many districts harvest work has been hurriedly carried through in order to save the crops from the ravages of the locusts. The weather was very dry and warm with a strong southwesterly winds.

In the government of Poltava owing to the excessive drought the wheat and hay crops present a rather unfavorable appearance

In the government of Khaskoff in consequence of continued drought weather the winter and spring sown wheat crops are in a bad condition

In the government of Kherson the condition of the wheat crop is satisfactory in the eastern portion of the district of Elisabethgrad and the part of the Odessa district which lays between Nicolaieff and Kherson elsewhere except some tracts of land here and there the crops give but little satisfaction as much on account of the drouthy character of the weather as the havoc caused by noxious insects

The clearances from seaboard Atlantic ports for Europe for the week ending August 29th were 1 703 077 bushels vs 1 308 870 bushels the previous week and for the last four weeks 5 186 709 bushels vs 5 150,677 bushels for the previous four weeks The amount of wheat in transit for the United Kingdom on the 5th ult was between four and five million bushels more than the corresponding date in 1874 The farmers deliveries in the United Kingdom continue larger than the average The stock at New York on the 14th ult was 1 136 290 bushels 1,456 928 bushels August 1st 1874.

Our advices from England by telegraph, which will be found elsewhere, indicate continued tendencies to firm prices in nearly all the markets of the old world and without doubt our surplus will be in active demand throughout the entire season
